CONFERENCE IN CHANGCHUN INDEFINITELY HALTED AGAIN

Russ Delegates Want Information About Sakhaline

WIRE TO MOSCOW

Adjournment Follows Unsatisfactory Answer On Evacuation

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Changchun, Sept. 20.—A quite unexpected hitch occurred at yesterday's session resulting in an indefinite adjournment of the Changchun Conference. In the course of a discussion the Russians asked the date of the Japanese evacuation of Sakhaline to which the Japanese replied that the occupation of part of Sakhaline was due to the Nicolaevsk affair and that evacuation will be carried out as soon as a settlement of the affair is effected. The Russians found it necessary to communicate with Moscow in view of the grave nature of the question and requested an adjournment pending instructions from Moscow.

Carlton 'Opens' With Two New Musicians

Old King Jazz took his regular winter toe hold at the Carlton last night. In fact, it was what you might call a double toe hold, as two great events were celebrated. First, the debut of two new jazz hounds in the orchestra, and second, the formal opening of the fall and winter season. Manager Ellis called up to say that a fine time was had by all, but he is a prejudiced witness and no attention was paid to his remarks on the subject. So to make sure we sent the star reporter over for a look-see and he didn't come back, so it must have been a swell party, to intrigue him into staying all night.

The two new members of the orchestra are Bernard Aronnon, Koe's brother, who twanged his bow over the back of his old Stradivarius in such a manner that the coolies out in the street were kicking out of their sandals. And as for Carlton toes, there was no holding them.

The other newcomer is "Whitey" Smith, late of Taits, and the way he tickled the drums made one feel sorry for San Francisco. Prohibition must have hit the dancing industry there pretty hard, for otherwise they never would have allowed Mr. Smith to get away.

With the new players on the job Guy Risher is now tromming the trombone regularly, and of course, quite trommily, Guy being one of the trommiest trommers that ever trommed into our midst.

From now on.

New Method Found To Light Highways

(China Press Service)

New York, Sept. 1.—What is said to be the best lighted highway in the United States is a five-mile stretch near the city of Buffalo, New York State. A new type of lighting fixture has been installed there, which minimises the danger of night driving due to glaring motor headlights. The lighting system has been installed by the Buffalo General Electric Company. It is known as the G-E Novalux or three-in-one unit.

This plan involves the use of three reflectors, one within the other, which cause all rays from the small incandescent lamp to the east upon the road surface. None goes skyward or out on the adjacent fields, where light is not needed, and as a result 250 candle power incandescent lamps placed on poles 400 feet apart illuminate the road just as well as in the city streets, where expensive and high-power street lamps are used.

For more than four years illuminating engineers have been experimenting with new kinds of lighting fixtures and have just perfected this new type of reflector, installations of which are now being made in a number of cities of the United States.

AMERICAN COURT RULES AGAINST WILKINS BROS.

Judgment In Sums Mex. $12,000 And $46,000 Hongkong Money Is Handed Down

Judgment in the sums of Mex. $12,000 and $46,000 Hongkong currency with interest and costs is given against Wilkins Bros. and Co. Inc. in favor of Chen Van Kee in a decision that has been handed down by Judge C. S. Lobingier of the United States Court for China.

The suit was based on claims that arose in connection with the steamer Wollowra which was formerly the property of Wilkins Bros. and Co. By the terms of an agreement made on November 15, 1920 Chen Van Kee became the registered owner of the steamer with the understanding that any expenses incurred by the boat would be for the account of Wilkins Bros. and Co. who agreed to cover all expenses incurred by the plaintiff under the agreement.

The petition recites that the sum of $12,000 was paid out in three separate claims, following actions in the Mixed Court, to H. M. Burns, who had been engaged as chief engineer, W. S. Dryden, chief engineer and W. G. Edwards, third engineer. On December 3, 1920 the plaintiff mortgaged the Wollowra to one Lee Hy San for $46,000 Hongkong currency. It is set forth that Wilkins Bros & Co. caused the Wollowra to be sent away from China and that thereafter it was seized by creditors and that Lee Hy San, being unable to obtain possession of the boat, sued in the Mixed Court and obtained judgment in the amount of the mortgage, $46,000 Hongkong currency.

Stage Is Set For Tea Dansant Today

Final arrangements were completed yesterday for the tea dansant that is to be given this afternoon at the Astor House by the New England Section of the American Woman's Club and all indications are that the affair will be one of the outstanding social events of the season.

Numerous reservations by large parties have been made in addition to the heavy advance sale of tickets and it is estimated that probably 400 people will attend the affair. The tea dansant is to be staged in the spacious open air pavilion of the Astor House which will be specially decorated for the occasion. Proceeds from the tea dansant are to be devoted to the building fund that is being raised by the American Woman's Club.

China Trade Act Becomes Law; Measure Just Through Senate Signed By Harding

Bill Provides For Federal Incorporation Of American Companies And Exempts Them From Income Tax Payments

Cables from Washington, D. C. received here yesterday by The American Chamber of Commerce tell that the China Trade Act, the measure that provides for federal incorporation of American companies in China and exempts them from payment of income tax, has been signed by President Harding and now is law.

Word that the act had been passed in the Senate was received here last week and it was then accepted that it would be signed without delay by President Harding who has been wholly favorable to the measure in the period that it has been before the present congress.

Representative L. C. Dyer, who introduced the China Trade act in the House of Representatives, and Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, were present at the White House when President Harding signed the measure yesterday.

The China Trade Act provides for federal incorporation of American and American-Chinese companies under American law and also provides for exemption from American taxation of such companies upon business done in China to the extent that their stock is owned by Chinese or Americans residing in China.

It was Congressman Dyer's intention to obtain the pen which President Harding used to sign the China Trade Act in order to send it to the American Chamber of Commerce of China for preservation as a memento of the occasion.

ONE BOAT SAILS, TWO WILL ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

President Cleveland Due This Morning; Wilson And Russia Coming

Rough weather condition outside Woosung has delayed at least three big trans-Pacific liners. The President Jackson of the Admiral Line, which was due in Shanghai Tuesday with a heavy mail from America, did not arrive until yesterday afternoon. The vessel is docked at the China Merchants' Central Wharf and will sail for Hongkong and Manila at 10 o'clock this morning as scheduled.

The President Cleveland of Pacific Mail missed the tide and is now due to berth at the N.Y.K. lower buoy this morning. The vessel will sail for San Francisco tomorrow and the tender with outgoing passengers will leave the Customs jetty at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The liner China of the China Mail docked at the China Merchants' Lower Wharf at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Following the Jackson, two other big liners are due from America tomorrow. The President Wilson of the Pacific Mail is due in Shanghai from San Francisco, Honolulu and Japan ports tomorrow morning and the Empress of Russia of the Canadian Pacific is due off Woosung from Vancouver at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The tenders with incoming passengers from the Russia is expected at the Customs jetty about 4.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The vessel will sail for Manila and Hongkong Saturday and the outbound passenger tender will leave the customs jetty at nine o'clock Saturday morning. The Russia is to land 200 passengers at this port and 110 are passing through for the South.

Shriners Getting Ready For Minstrel Show Next Month

The Shriners' Minstrel Show scheduled for October 25, 26, 27 and 28, just a few weeks from now, is rapidly taking form. The management has been particularly fortunate this year in securing as technical Director, Mr. E. P. Graham-Barrow, whose success in such affairs needs no commentary. And with Mr. Mena Silas as musical director, that end of the program is in safe hands for Mr. Silas, well known for many years in Shanghai dramatical and musical circles, has an enviable record.

Mr. A. F. Blanchard, the producer, has been working on the materials and props for many months, and promises the very latest and best minstrel effects from home. The plans call for something original and special in the way of stage settings and minstrel scenes, into which will be introduced the latest songs as well as some of the old favorites of the south. The troupe will include some fifty or more voices; for interlocutor and end men—you'd be surprised.

Announcements will be made later concerning theater and bookings.

DRY DECISION

WITNESS ASSUMES ASSAULT CHARGE, FREES DEFENDANT

Case Against T. R. Scanlon In American Court Brought To Abrupt End

Charges of assault against Mr. T. R. Scanlon on which he was called into court before U. S. Commissioner N. E. Lurton were dropped abruptly yesterday when a witness in the case testified that it was he and not Mr. Scanlon who had hit Yeh Zung-yui, complainant, who is manager of the printing department of the Commercial Press. The witness who made the admission was Mr. John Walker, British, who is manager of a cotton mill.

Dr. H. C. Mei, counsel for Mr. Yeh swore out the warrant charging Mr. Scanlon with assault, asserting that he had struck Mr. Yeh in the face in an alley off Dixwell Road without any justification or provocation on Sunday night. Mr. Yeh was punched in the face, he said, after he had come upon Mr. Scanlon's car in the alley without lights and made a civil inquiry as to why he didn't have lights. The complainant and three other witnesses testified to seeing Mr. Scanlon hit Yeh.

Then Mr. Walker took the stand and testified that Mr. Scanlon had driven him to his home and that he was standing talking to him a minute in the alley when three Chinese, evidently under the influence of drink, came along the alley. One of them pushed him and started raising a disturbance, he said, and finally after he had been pushed in the face, he smashed the offending Chinese in the nose.

Mr. Scanlon had never got out of the car, he said, but was arrested by Chapei police and taken to the Chapei sub-police station. While being taken to the central Chapei station he appealed to a Settlement policeman and was released after giving his name and address.

Commissioner Lurton dismissed the charges without further evidence and Dr. Mei asserted they would bring action against Mr. Walker in the British Court.

Elsie's Leaving Us Flat On Our Journalistic Backs

Not By Elsie

Dear Mr. Editor—Well Mr. Editor, if this flat wheeled old whaler in which we have purchased a half interest but for which we received only one ticket to America in return for our purchase money, ever makes up its mind to begin to start to proceed we hope soon to be putting large chunks of distance between ourself and the old job.

As a return upon our investment in the merchant marine industry we were promised that the shoving off party would be staged yesterday, but no sooner had we arrived at the dock with our hat boxes and other baggage and a flock of nice clean handkerchiefs with which to mop up our parting tears than we were informed that the anchors would not be liften until tomorrow. However, none of the other directors or fellow stockholders of the steamship company said anything about a kick in, or a kick back, rather, on the looks of small money we had to pay out to the coolies to have our things hauled to the dock and turned around and hauled right back again.

So that's how our shoving off party was broken up, and speaking of parties we certainly are hopeful that they will make good on their promise to get that sampan under steam by tomorrow, as promised, because if we stay around here much longer somebody may become afflicted with the idea of putting on another farewell dinner for us at the Roo Cornay mess, and that would be very unfortunate for us, as the one Tuesday night was enough, plenty, ample, sufficient, genug, sub and facio and to spare. And please, Mr. Editor, if you see that guy Westa please convey the above information to him and it will be perfectly all right with us if you convey it with a club or a shot gun.

In a way, Mr. Editor, we are sorry to go and no doubt we shall hanker to come back just as soon as we get some of the numerous kinks taken out of our chassis and our differentials and transmissions adjusted so they don't rattle and creak and threaten to slip back into their original atoms and molecules every time we essay so much of a task as walking from the dining room to the front porch.

When we get home we are going to some good garage with an M.D. over the door and tell the proprietor to lay out every wrench and crowbar and hammer in the shop and then call in his best mechanic and see if he can't get our inside wheels and springs to working again. And if that fails then we are going to use our last remaining supply of breath to climb up to the top of the highest mountain we can find in our native California and leap from there clear out into the deepest part of the Pacific ocean, first taking the precaution to tie a big rock around our neck. In that case you probably won't hear from us again.

Well, Mr. Editor, we guess that's about all. We might say, in parting, that if it ever comes back to us that any of that bunch at the office passes any remarks about

MISS McCORMICK GOING HOME ON THE "CLEVELAND"

Ill Health Forces Writer To Seek Change And Rest

Miss Elsie McCormick, who for nearly three years has been engaged in newspaper work in China, will leave Shanghai tomorrow morning on the liner President Cleveland for San Francisco, her home. For the past year her health has not been good and she is hopeful that the change of climate, combined with a long rest, will prove the needed restoratives.

Miss McCormick's work for the China Press, particularly her "Unexpurgated Diary of a Shanghai Baby," and her colorful pen pictures of life in the Far East, as lived by both natives and foreigners, stamped her as a writer of rare skill. Part of what she wrote, including several of the "Shanghai Baby" letters and many of her sketches, has been reprinted in book form, both volumes having attained a great popularity, both in the East and in America.

Miss McCormick has traveled extensively in China, as well as in other parts of the world, which gives her writing a cosmopolitan aspect. In addition to the experience gained from travel, and from contact with many people and many countries, Miss McCormick has great imagination and an originality that makes her work striking and unique.

In addition to her newspaper work in China Miss McCormick has written for numerous magazines, her most recent contribution being an article on the Kansu earthquake and landslide, written in collaboration with Mr. Josef W. Hall, of Peking. She hopes to continue writing in America, although she may return to the East to complete some work on which she was engaged when her failing health forced a temporary abandonment.

Miss McCormick has made a large number of friends in Shanghai and throughout China, all of whom, while regretting her departure, are hopeful that the ocean trip and the salubrious climate of her native California will quickly restore her health.

TURKISH CAVALRY NEAR NEUTRAL ZONE, KEMAL ASKS TO ENTER THRACE

Victorious Leader Asks Allies To Permit Occupation As Means Of Protecting "Oppressed Moslem Population There"

VETERANS EAGER TO SIGN ON AGAIN

Thousands Apply For Permission To Be Included In Contingent From Canada If One Is Sent To Help Defend Dardenelles

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Sept. 20.—The first body of Turkish Cavalry has reached the outskirts of Bigha on the edge of the neutral zone, 50 miles from Ismak.

New York, Sept. 19.—A telegram from Constantinople states that Mustapha Kemal Pasha has requested the Allies to permit his Army to occupy Thrace in order to liberate the "oppressed Moslem population," insisting that the question of the Dardanelles can be discussed later with the participation of all the countries bordering on the Black Sea.

The Nationalist representative at the same time informed the British High Commissioner that under the treaty with Russia Angora was unable to accept an invitation to a conference on the Dardanelles unless delegates from Russia and the Ukraine took part in it.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Letters are pouring in to the War Veterans' Association, volunteering for any Canadian contingent to the Dardanelles. Many have come from the United States. Reports show that thousands of volunteers have applied to the various centers throughout Canada.

Johannesburg, Sept. 19.—Numbers of men have come forward to enlist in connection with the Near Eastern crisis. The authorities have been obliged to post notices, declaring that up to the present recruiting is not authorised.

Calcutta, Sept. 19.—A large meeting of Mohammedans at the Town Hall today passed a resolution of congratulations to Mustapha Kemal Pasha and protested against Britain's alleged pro-Greek policy.

A member of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Faz-ul-Huq, hotly warned Britain that, if she participated in the disintegration of Turkey, she would assume the position of an enemy of Islam. Another member was very abusive and denounced the Lloyd George Cabinet, whereupon some of those on the platform withdrew.

HANNIGS HELD ON NEW CHARGE BY U. S. ATTORNEY

Tientsin Hotel Man Arrested For Alleged Assault On Chinese At Peking

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Sept. 20.—Charles W. Hannigs, former manager of the Belmont Hotel in Tientsin who recently figured in an American court case in Shanghai which saw Judge Charles S. Lobingier allow a writ of habeas corpus after Hannigs had been convicted of assault in the Consular Court at Tientsin, was arrested here last night by United States District Attorney Leonard G. Husar.

Husar arrested Hannigs on the Peking-Mukden train just before it reached the railway station. The United States District Attorney said Hannigs was trying to avoid service of a warrant which had been obtained from the United States Consulate at Tientsin by the District Attorney.

The new warrant charges that Hannigs assaulted a Chinese coolie on Sunday, September 17. It is alleged that he gave the Chinese a bad beating following the United States Court for China decision which set aside the verdict of the Tientsin consul.

Husar was in Peking and was informed that Hannigs had left Tientsin. The District Attorney went by train to a small station outside the city where he, with two United States Marines, boarded the train by which Hannigs was travelling to Peking.

Hannigs was taken to the Marine Barracks. He will be tried by Judge Lobingier at Tientsin this term. Court will convene next Saturday and Hannigs' case will probably be one of the first on the docket.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Sept. 20.—Mr. Hannigs, former manager of the Astor House Hotel at Tientsin, was arrested in Peking yesterday on a charge of knocking down and severely kicking a riesha coolie on Sunday night at Tientsin. A warrant was issued for Mr. Hannig's arrest. He left for Peking yesterday afternoon but was arrested on his arrival and is detained by the American Legation Guard. It is understood that he will be brought back to Tientsin today.

British Troops 'Dig In' At Chanak, But French Will Leave

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 19.—None of the numerous reports which have reached the French Government on the burning of Smyrna allow of the responsibility for the disaster to be attributed to the Turks.

Only one British subject was killed, a doctor who met his death at the hands of looters.

The American Red Cross is daily providing for the wants of 15,000 Greek and Armenian refugees.

London, Sept. 19.—The possible effect of the withdrawal of French troops from Chanak, the key of the Straits, was discussed at a Cabinet meeting this morning, which was again attended by the military, naval and Air Force chiefs.

The Government has not received from the French Government any confirmation of the report of the withdrawal, in connection with which the French press expresses the hope that Britain will follow the example of France.

No instructions have been issued for the withdrawal of British troops from Chanak and on the contrary they are reported to be digging in but, according to the Messagero, the Italian Government has decided to withdraw the Italian contingent from the neutral zone to Constantinople.

According to the Petit Parisien Kemal Pasha has given assurance that he will not attack the Dardanelles but Reuter's Paris correspondent transmits a statement, attributed to Ferid Bey, the Kemalist representative in Paris, that the Kemalists intend to occupy Chanak and not to recognise any neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Straits.

Ferid Bey added that the Kemalists recognised the Allied occupation of Constantinople and Gallipoli and once they occupied the Asiatic side they would be willing to foregather at the peace table and guarantee the fullest freedom of the Straits with even an Allied garrison in Gallipoli.

An official communique, issued today, denies the newspaper statement that the semi-official declaration of policy in the Near East, issued on Saturday, is now regarded as mistaken by the Government and emphasizes that the declaration reported the decisions of the Cabinet on Friday and was issued with the approval of all the Ministers present in London. The Cabinet is well satisfied with the support accorded the policy not only in Britain but in the Dominions.

It is announced that the British Government has officially expressed to the French Government its appreciation of the latter's attitude on the question of the notification to Kemal Pasha.

The British Government declares that it cordially welcomes M. Poincare's assurances on this question and also on the question of the occupied zones and hopes that the spirit of these agreements and the spirit of co-operation shown will rule future discussions.

Lord Curzon left for Paris this afternoon and Earl Beatty will leave for Paris today or tomorrow.

It is understood that the Government is determined that the Kemalist troops shall not be allowed to cross the Straits until peace terms have been established.

It is satisfied that this can be prevented by naval action alone, though this does not dispose of the necessity of providing for the maintenance of the neutrality of the demilitarised zones on both sides of the Straits, should events falsify the opinion with regard to the sufficiency of naval action.

With regard to the report of the withdrawal of French troops from Chanak official circles point out that as far as is known there are no French troops at Chanak and, if there are the number must be very small. It is emphasised that the Government is very averse to war and official circles are of opinion that the measures taken and proposed are eminently calculated to prevent the recurrence of war in the Near East.

Rome, Sept. 19.—Count Sforza will attend the interview between Lord Curzon and M. Poincare.

Northcliffe Press Attacking Premier

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 19.—With regard to the Near East crisis the Daily Mail, which, passing under the new principal proprietorial influence of Lord Rothermere, the late Lord Northcliffe's brother, is at present in most vigorous mood, returns to the charge today and attacks Mr. Lloyd George, demanding a summoning of Parliament before the British Empire is plunged into a new war at the Government's behest.

Such a course is, however, improbable unless the British forces in the Near East are compelled to resist an attack.

The Daily News, however, instead of warmly backing up its contemporary's "Stop this War!" agitation, points out the misapprehension of its argument as based on the facts of the situation. It defends the Government, though it disapproves of the latter's method of expression in its recent manifesto.

The paper says that this appeared to be an unwise attempt to rush the Allies and dubs it a rhetorical and theatrical impertinence. The journal adds that the appeal to the Dominions was childish and unnecessary and most embarrassing to them.

This is only one of the many criticisms passed on the Government's statement of Sept. 16. Even the Government's friends describe it as a sudden attack of nerves while other quarters regard the explanation that its publication was due to a secretarial error as rather lame.

They point out that the phraseology is that of a well-known hand, with reference, obviously, to Mr. Winston Churchill.

Says Kemal Doesn't Recognise Treaty

(China Press Service)

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Petit Parisien reports that Kemal Pasha, replaying to the note of the Allies, declares that he does not know or recognise the Treaty of Sevres on which the neutral zone in the Dardanelles depends, but that he will for the present, take notice of the Allies presence there.

He does not intend, for the time being, he says, to advance on Gallipoli and Constantinople, and is prepared to negotiate peace, but he insists that any espousing of the Greek cause on the part of the Allies be abandoned at once.

"No armistice will be closed with Greece while war still is going on," he stated as his ultimatum.

Freight Train Wreck That Killed Nine

NINE persons were killed and fifty injured in a wreck at Annandale, Minn., when a motor truck, struck by a fast passenger train at a crossing, was thrown against a switch, which it opened, with the result that the train was split in two parts and dashed into a freight train that had taken a siding to let the passenger train pass. Four cars were telescoped into the freight. The photograph shows the first day coach next to the smoker, in which all the deaths occurred.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Sept. 19.—The British Consul-General is still at Smyrna and says he does not propose to leave until he is certain that all British subjects are out of the town.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Premier today read before the Cabinet the instructions sent to the French agents with the Allied Governments on the subject of the Near Eastern crisis.

These instructions are on all points in agreement with the policy previously laid down by the Government.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 19.—Dispatches received here report that Kemal Pasha with eight divisions of troops, is advancing on Ismid. This city is practically an outpost of Constantinople.

Melbourne, Sept. 19.—A meeting of the Federal Cabinet today endorsed Mr. Hughes's action in offering troops for Gallipoli.

Mr. Hughes in the House of Representatives reviewed the situation and added that he had considered it necessary to tell Mr. Lloyd George that the Commonwealth would stand by Britain in defending the freedom of the Straits.

Mr. M. Charlton, a member for New South Wales, urged that the House should not permit the despatch of troops without consulting the people.

Meanwhile volunteers are being enrolled throughout the country. A thousand men offered their services in Sydney yesterday and the number is likely to be exceeded today. The Federal President of the Returned Soldiers' League has assured Mr. Hughes of the abiding loyalty of the men who fought in the Great War.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The Government is communicating with the delegates to the League of Nations to ascertain whether the crisis in the Near East is sufficiently serious to warrant the calling of a special session of Parliament.

Paris, Sept. 19.—It is stated that about 2,000 French troops have been withdrawn from Chanak.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 19.—Parliament today unanimously confirmed the action of the Premier, Mr. Massey, in associating New Zealand with Great Britain in the developments in the Near East and offering a contingent.

Mr. Hughes replied that while the situation was full of grave possibilities Australia was not asked to do more than associate herself with the Imperial Government in its steps to maintain the freedom of the Straits and the neutral zone. He did not think the Government ought to go beyond assistance in maintaining the freedom of the Dardanelles.

The House finally passed a resolution that the Premier's statement should be printed.

Holland Plans To Combine Ministries

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, Sept. 19.—Jonkheer van Beerenbrouck, opening the States-General today, said that measures for the revision of the Constitution must first of all be considered. Rigorous restriction of expenditure was essential. The Department of Agriculture would be amalgamated with the Department of Public Works. The revision of the Labor Contract Law was contemplated. The electoral law would be amended with a view to introducing proportional representation in the First Chamber. Measures would be introduced to amend the administration of the Colonies and to modify the fiscal regime.

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "bustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and its clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

Pavlowa Bringing Her Newest Dances

Again Anna Pavlowa comes to us from new Paris and London triumphs this year, as last, bringing a new array of ballets and divertissements lately approved in those cities, together with her most popular offerings of former years. Consequently her program will be quite as attractive as that of last season, when she comes to the Olympic theater.

She brings complete new productions of scenery and costumes for her novelties, and also for the older favorites, which were given new equipments for the Paris and London engagements of last spring and summer. In collaboration with her American manager, S. Hurok, she chose those ballets and divertissements which have won the most popularity in this country in former years. To these they added those new works which have won the greatest measure of approval from foreign critics and which had never been shown in America before.

The result is an attractive list of eleven ballets and thirty-two divertissements. Five of the ballets never presented in this country before are "Dionysus," Fairy Tales," "The Fauns," "A Norse Odyll" and a Polish Ballet. Others are "Snowflakes," "The Fairy Doll," "Chopiniana" and the Mexican Dances. Two others, "Les Preludes" and "The Magic Flute," are welcome revivals that have not been given for eight years. Of the divertisements, fourteen are new.

Entertainments For Charity Fund

There are to be two variety entertainments at the Olympic Theater, tonight and tomorrow night, in aid of the Swatow typhoon victims, which should result in a goodly addition to the fund. The promoters are anxious that it should be known that the net proceeds are to be devoted to the charity. Both professional and amateur artistes will take part in the proceedings.

The "pros" will be represented by Miss Diane de Brett, who has played for some years on the West end stage, Mme. Kelvey, Miss Irene Gray, Miss Carolyn Mason and Miss Elvira Petty of the Summer Follies, the Louisiana Trio, and the Four Lansoffs.

Among the amateurs we are to see the Silas Bros. ("The Three Tinklers") and Mr. Cameron in a piano novelty. Miss Dorothy Kelvey and Mme. Kelvey's juvenile dancers, the ventriloquist Mr. G. H. Kortwright, Miss Richard Dixon and her parrot and the pianist Mr. A. H. Shenin. Twelve turns are promised, and it is expected that further additions will be forthcoming from the ranks of local talent.

Trial is to be held this week in the French Mixed Court of Mr. A. Giesel, head of the firm of Giesel and Company, on charges of manufacturing spurious liquors and of issuance of counterfeit labels of wellknown brands of liquors. Mr. Giesel was arrested on Saturday when godowns of his firm at No. 1 Chaufoong Road were raided by police of the French and International Settlements and more than a thousand packages of liquor and a huge quantity of equipment were seized.

In connection with this case M. Crepin, Assessor of the French Mixed Court, who fixed bail in the sum of Tls. 10,000 at Mr. Giesel's preliminary hearing on Saturday, paid a visit to the Chaufoong Road godowns yesterday afternoon in company with French police officials.

On the technical charge of having sold liquor without a license a fine of $100 was imposed in the case and a quantity of imitation brandy he was offering for sale was confiscated. According to testimony given by the prosecution which was conducted by Detective Sgt. Douglas the accused was found selling for $23 a case imitation Hennessey Cognac, the market price of which is about $38 a case. Mr. N. Blumenthal of L. Rondon and Company, Shanghai agents of French wine and liquor manufacturers, was one of the witnesses for the prosecution in the case.

Detective Who Shot Coolie Exonerated

Following an inquest in connection with the death of Shih Feng-woo, a coolie who was shot by Chinese Detective Yao Ah-sung of Central Police Station, the detective was held blameless by British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh.

The inquest found that Detective Yao was attempting to make an arrest of a foundry coolie employed at the Asia Engineering Corporation, 318 Sawgin Road on September 11 when he was attacked by a crowd of coolies who gathered.

The crowd, according to the evidence, menaced the detective with iron pipes and the court decided the detective was justified in pulling his revolver in his own defense. Yao shot into the ground when the crowd came closer and the coolie was struck in the abdomen. He died the next day at St. Luke's Hospital.

Ex-Giant Hurler Now Flying Expert In Navy

Al Williams, the ex-Giant pitcher who joined the aviation service during the world war and became so valuable as a "bird" that he was retained by the U. S. Navy in the same line of strenuous endeavor, has gained prominence and fame in days of peace. He has been promoted several times and stands very high in the estimation of Admiral Moffat, the head of the Bureau of Aeronautics, whose headquarters are in Washington.

The United States Government is making great strides in aeronautics and will continue its progress in the hope that this country will lead all others in aviation.

An English plane of the amphibious type was recently received from England. It is the only one in America. Lieutenant Williams was selected to pilot the new craft as soon as it was assembled. He did so on its first trial trip. It was a great success.

The plane can descend on water or land having wheels that can be folded to the sides of the plane in water landings.

It is a new invention and said to work perfectly. Pilot Williams flew across country from and to Norfolk, Va., and made the one way trip of 168 miles in one hour and 25 minutes. Some speed!

WILLIAMS ON TEAM

Surely Williams has gone steadily to the front in aviation. He has made a most enviable and commanding record. This is shown by his being selected one of six men to represent the United States Navy in the aviation tournament that is to be held in Detroit next October in which our own Army and Navy and those of several foreign countries will take part.

The meet will consist of two races, land plane and sea plane. Williams has been entered in both events. The prize for the winner in each will be $1,200.

Williams is considered to have a good chance to win both. He will surely do his best, for he has pluck gameness and rare ability.

Lieutenant Williams became so adept as a flyer that he was made stunt instructor, and he has performed many new tricks that he inaugurated that have become historic in aviation.

Moving pictures were taken of the operation of the new English plane landing on land, then on water, then on water again. The pictures were shown in Norfolk and were seen by Williams, who says they were "peaches," and that he felt very proud of his exhibition.

Al Williams is a graduate of Fordham University, where he was prominent in sports of all kinds. In baseball and football he excelled. He was coach of both the varsity football and baseball teams.

While training with the Giants in Marlin Williams gave promise of developing into a star pitcher. He was attacked by internal trouble that was a handicap to his advancement. After an operation, however, he regained his health. Now he is as strong and rugged as a bear. Aviation has done him a world of good.

When Al retires from the navy, doubtless he will take up aviation as a commercial enterprise. He is now located at Naval Air Station, Hampton Roads Branch, Norfolk, Va.

SAYS "BUGS" Baer: FIGHT GAME IS SLOWING

Looks Like Fans Are In For Some Warmed-Over Fights

Looks like fighting game has simmered away to zero. Leonard seems to be the only champ who will wiggle his elbows this month, and Ben isn't taking any more chances than a hoss at a water trough.

Dempsey will continue to be pointed out as world's champ for several years to follow, but he won't do any fighting. There is plenty of grease in the pan. But no bacon in the grease. So what's the use of frying nothing?

He may get a fight with Brennan in Chicago. They fought here. And once is enough for New York. The Wills fight is much daylight-saving away. Plenty of bootleggers can run over the bridge between now and next July.

Trouble with fighting now is that everybody has seen all fighters fight. It would be considerable question if Leonard and Tendler could pack Boyle's Acres again. They might. But it wouldn't be the same audience that saw them the first time.

Fight fans love to see new faces. On the canvas.

Any stranger who shows any ambition with his knuckles can get more publicity than a movie marriage. Leonard Britton, Kilbane have held those titles plenty long enough. After a champ has hung on for five or six years and grabbed himself a boatload of coupons, there isn't much sorrow spilled when some unknown hauls off and knocks him overboard.

Still there doesn't seem to be any birds stepping around now that can do that little thing. Tendler came closer to grabbing Leonard than Wills will come to Dempsey. And Mr. Britton ain't going to let go for some time.

Pretty spot for England or France to send some new floor material over. Even if they get clapped silly they will have strange faces.

Tientsin Junior Swimming Gala Is A Huge Success

The gala which was held on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Tientsin Swimming Club for the children of the Port was a most successful affair, and enjoyable to all who were in any way concerned, whether competitor or organiser.

The greatest excitement was obtained over the school team race. Marist Brothers' boys led for three laps. Jack Foox swam splendidly for the Grammar School, however, in the fourth lap, and won brilliantly amid much enthusiasm.

During the afternoon Miss P. Nathan and Mr. Lindberg gave exhibitions of diving, and Mr. Frost did the Monte Christo trick—getting out of a tied sack under water. Mr. Frost was also trussed round with cord and released himself under water.

Messrs. A. Burgess and F. W. G. North were the judges, and Mr. W. O'Hara officiated as starter. The children and all others who found enjoyment from Saturday's gala also feel very grateful, we have no doubt, to Mr. Alec Hay for his admirable enterprise in this matter.

The prizes were distributed at the close by Mrs. E. C. Young, who was presented with a bouquet by the hero of the afternoon, Jack Foox.

JAPANESE TIED 2 ALL WITH TIENTSIN CITS

Playing in bitter cold weather at Tientsin Sunday, the Japanese nine defeated the Tientsin Civilians and brought the series for the championship of the port to two all. The Japanese won by a score of 7-6. The game was slow and replete with errors because of the weather, a sudden cold snap catching Tientsin Saturday night and continuing Sunday. There were more errors than hits.

The final game for the civilian championship of Tientsin is to be played at the Recreation Ground on Sunday, October 1.

Cy Wilhoit's home run hit was the feature of Saturday's defeat of the Americans. The former Shanghai star drove the ball to deep center and made one of the longest hits seen in Tientsin. Seki, the Japanese star, also collected a four-ply wallop while Foley and Riley each glommed a double.

Scots To Bowl Rest Of City Saturday

A match is being arranged between rinks representing Scotland and the Rest of Shanghai at the Race Course on Saturday next. This is the last opportunity local bowlers will have of getting together this season, and as the last match was such a pronounced success it is hoped this will prove similar. The notice is very short but few clubs have any strict engagements just now and there ought to be no difficulty in putting up 10 or a dozen rinks a side.

FORMER MANAGER OF "NEW WORLD" ANSWERS CHARGE

As a new angle of the intricate litigation in which the affairs of the Chinese amusement resort, The New World on Nanking Road have become involved charges of embezzlement of $226,116 were filed in the Mixed Court before Portuguese Assessor Carvalho against Loh Sih-yeu, former manager of the New World.

He was released on Tls. 10,000 security after an exciting session of the court in which Mr. Robert T. Bryan, Jr. of Davies and Bryan, attorney for Loh, and Mr. Ponson Chu, attorney for the complainant, King Wong-sz, had engaged in several bitter exchanges.

Mr. Bryan, opposing application for the prosecution for Tls 100,000 immediate security in the case alleged that the charge was trumped up and was the ninth of a series of trumped up charges that had been filed against his client in an attempt to make him settle a civil action out of court.

Mr. Bryan declared that the affairs of the New World had been the center of considerable litigation and at the present time the New World was in liquidation before the American Assessor. This case, he said, was the same as the civil case.

Mr. Chu demanded the high security and in the argument that ensued both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Chu ran through the decalogue of vituperation. King Wong-sz, the complainant, is the Chinese widow of a Portuguese subject who has already figured in several lawsuits including one prominent case in the British Court.

Sores from Wrist to Elbow

"Completely Healed"

Our portrait is of Mr. John Kidd, of 17, Mill Lane, Kilmarnock, Scotland, who writes: "My right arm became covered with sores from wrist to elbow and was useless for over two years. I tried different ointments and so-called cures, but they never did me any good. Then I tried your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and the sores soon began to heal up and power began to come back to my arm, so I persevered with the Mixture, and after having four bottles am glad to say my arm is completely healed up and I have now the full use of it." In a further letter over a twelvemonth later Mr. Kidd writes: "I have had no return of my complaint; my arm is still as sound as a bell and never troubles me in the least."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious. *Of all dealers. Weddings

HENRIQUES—RYAN

On Wednesday morning, Sept. 20 a very pretty wedding took place at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, when Mr. Theodore E. Henriques of the Equitable Eastern Banking Corporation was united in marriage to Miss Julia A. Ryan of New York City.

The bride was given away by Mr. D. W. Murphy of the firm of Eisler, Reeves and Murphy.

The matron of honor was Mrs. James J. Rogers, wife of the manager of the Equitable Eastern Banking Corporation. Mr. James J. Rogers acted as best man. Mr. H. B. Sawyer, American Vice-Consul acted as witness.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Michael J. Kennelly, S. J. of Siccawei Catholic College.

Mr. O. Walters presided at the organ. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with real lace and a long veil with orange blossoms. She carried a shower boquet of white roses. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Schmidt, 285 Rue Chapsal, after which the couple left for a honeymoon at Hangchow. After their return they will reside at 117 Rue Massenet.

NEILL-HILL

One of the most popular and interesting weddings of the Tientsin wedding season (which usually lasts about 12 months in each year) took place at All Saints Church when Mr. Walter Neill, of the Chartered Bank, was united in marriage to Miss Hester Mary Hill, sister of Mrs. P. D. Evans, says the North China Mail.

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. P. D. Evans.

The bridesmaids were Misses Rosamund Hunt, Geraldine Roy Eckford and Margaret Roy Eckford. Two small swains, David Brown and Bobby Buchan escorted the two small bridesmaids.

The officiating clergy were the Rev. G. B. Leonard Williams and the Rev. S. G. Teakle, Mr. Cadman presided at the organ. The groom's best man was Mr. D. G. Gilmore of the Chartered Bank, while Messrs. A. J. Dennys, D. A. Bell, W. Pryor and M. Boniface acted as ushers.

After the wedding, a reception was held at Mrs. W. H. Hunt's house, 2, Yunnan Road.

The honeymoon is to be spent at the Western Hills, and then the happy pair will go home by Hankow, down the Yangtsze by steamer, afterwards travelling via Rangoon and Calcutta, sightseeing in India, and rejoining the steamer at Bombay.

Court Refuses To Reduce Jail Term In Opium Conviction

Fines will give way to prison sentences in opium cases in the Mixed Court if British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh have their way. They announced yesterday that they favored such action when they refused to reduce a sentence imposed on a client defended by Attorney L. K. Kentwell.

Mr. Kentwell's client was sentenced to three months imprisonment on an opium charge and has served one month of his sentence. Mr. Kentwell, in his application to have the man's sentence reduced so that he could be released from jail now, was based on the declaration that his father had died and it was necessary for him to be at liberty so he could arrange for the funeral.

Superintendent of Police Vaughn opposed the motion on behalf of the police, asserting that the man had been convicted of the same offense twice, and that the sentence was not too harsh.

"It is very strange that it is only in opium cases that these men squeal when they are sent to jail," Mr. Vaughn declared. "If this Court continues fining for opium offenses the money is immediately forthcoming and then they return to selling opium with 'business as usual' as their slogan. By allowing them their liberty through fines they immediately make up the fine and it does no good. But they have a dread of the grim reality of jail. It is also extremely peculiar that when they are in jail for opium offenses they also discover sick mothers and deceased fathers."

Mr. Vaughn said there was no good reason why the sentence should be reduced and he asked the court to stand firm in their original sentence.

Assessor Mead in refusing to grant the reduction in sentence declared the Court agreed with Mr. Vaughn's remarks.

"They always appear to have plenty of money in opium cases," Mr. Mead said, "and in this particular case we see no reason why he should not serve the full three months in jail. The application is refused."

Elsie's Leaving Us Flat On Our Backs

nothing becoming our job so much as the quitting of it we will have a picture of ourself taken sitting at the table up to our ears in fresh California lettuce and celery, with a big dish of strawberries that would faint in their tracks if anybody so much as came near them with potassium permanganate on our left and on our right a pitcher of cream so creamy and thick and of such recent association with a real, honest to Gawd cow that you'd have to push it when you got ready to spread it over the strawberries; and also on the table a pitcher of water that you could drink without wondering whether you were toasting an undertaker, and send the picture back with a cross indicating ourself. We guess that would make them sorry for talking about us behind our back, don't you think, Mr. Editor?

Spot bar silver was up ¼d and forward ⅛d in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 69⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 442⅝. The only change in our Official quotations here today was a rise in the Yen rate to 63¼.

Our market was firm throughout the morning particularly at the opening.

Business in Sterling was done at 3-5¾ September, 3-5 3-16 October, 3-5⅞ November, and 3-5 15-16 for December delivery.

Gold Dollars were done at 77⅛ September, 77¼ October and 77⅜ for forward delivery.

Some business in Yen was done at 62¼ for October.

At times there were buyers and at times sellers at these rates, although at the close there were probably more buyers than sellers.

Banks were quoting 3-6⅝ for Sterling bills, 78¾ for Gold Dollar bills and 1045 for Franc bills.

Francs were in better demand today than they have been for some time.

Speculators bought silver in London yesterday and the market is reported as steady.

New York report their market as easy with more sellers than buyers at the official rates.

No Action Against Peking Hospital For Quinn's Death

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Sept. 20.—A foreign nurse handed a Chinese surgeon the cocain which was responsible for the death of Radio Chief B. J. Quinn, United States Navy, at the Rockefeller Hospital, according to United States District Attorney Leonard G. Husar, who has been making an investigation of Quinn's death.

Criminal proceedings will probably not be taken against the Peking Union Medical College of the Rockefeller Foundation, where Quinn died, the District Attorney said. He asserted that the management of the hospital was at fault for allowing both cocain and novocain placed together on the same shelf of the storeroom.

It was learned that a Chinese nurse had taken the cocain by mistake to the operating room, where it is never used, instead of the novocain.

In the operating room a foreign nurse had handed the cocain to the surgeon.

Quinn had been previously operated on for a carbuncle and this operation was successful. He was later taken to the operating room for skin grafting under local anaesthetic and this was when the cocain was injected instead of the novocain. Death came a few hours later from cocain poisoning despite every effort of doctors.

WHEN YOUR JOINTS CRACK

Look out for Rheumatism

It is not only while he questions you or feels your pulse that the doctor is finding out the cause of your suffering when you go to him. He is a trained observer of everything which can give him a hint about you. Sometimes he will suddenly get you to stand up. That is because he wants to hear whether your joints crack when you bend them suddenly. Something that you have said makes him think that your blood has rheumatic poison in it. The sound in your joints confirms his suspicion. You have told him that you are stiff and sometimes have sharp pains: damp or wet has got at you. You think that is the cause of your pain. But it is not the first cause. Your blood was already impoverished, and needed something to feed and purify it, making it rich and healthy.

To keep what is called "fit," you ought to take Dr. Williams' pink pills at this time of the year. They are a safe and helpful domestic medicine, acting directly on your blood and nerves, increasing your power of resistance to fatigue and changes of weather, building you up, so that you can face the strain and hurry of life, and be always above par. Do not wait for poor blood to tell upon you. As soon as you feel a little run down, "off your feed," and tired at night, get a supply of Dr. Williams' pink pills, and protect yourself before illness comes.

Now is the time to begin Dr. Williams' pink pills. Get a supply from any dealer; or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, price $1.50 per bottle, $8 for 6 bottles, post free.

FREE. A free book of health will be sent to any reader who writes a postcard asking for it to the above address.

Indian Tells Of Sacrifices If Opium Is Ended

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 19.—The Assembly of the League of Nations today resumed the discussion of opium.

The Chinese delegate declared that his Government was strictly conforming to the Hague Convention but had to contend with contraband traffic in narcotics because neighboring States favored production and traffic in opium.

The Indian delegate in a speech described the sacrifices that the suppression of poppy-growing would entail in India.

Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland (New Zealand) declared that he favored co-operation between Governments and asserted that the consumption of morphine and cocaine ought also to be restricted.

Colonel John Ward (Britain) declared that the British authorities had always tried to prevent abuses.

The Assembly unanimously adopted the report of the Opium Commission, presented at yesterday's debate.

Geological Survey Achieving 3 Objects

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 19.—A leading article on the geological survey in China in the Times gives details of what is being done and says that the three great objects of the geological survey are being accomplished. The mineral resources of the country are being ascertained, a uniform survey is being made and scientific research is being prosecuted. What has been accomplished already shows that the geological survey is going to become an active factor in the material development of the country.

Advertising Essential To Modern Life

THE admirable and liberal Christian Century of Chicago is disturbed over the advertising situation in America. It believes the cost of living is burdened by large expenditures to induce people to buy things they do not need.

Aren't there enough kinds of soap in the world? Why, then, should a manufacturer spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to induce the public to buy another kind? The Christian Century has even heard that an advertising agent has said that his firm can guarantee a return of $150,000 to the manufacturer of anything who will put $100,000 into advertising; after that the article must make its way on its merits. "But is it not disconcerting," it asks, "to realise that the public, up at least to the comfortable margin indicated, is at the mercy of any and every propagandist or bunco-steerer who has or can borrow his $100,000?"

Before going further, just a word about the Christian Century's gay assumption that it is the easiest thing in the world to go out and borrow $100,000. Apparently anybody can get it for pretty nearly any purpose. That hasn't been our experience. The kind-feeling person with $100,000 to lend usually wants security, and he insists on being convinced that the manufacturer has a meritorious article to sell.

It is an axiom that only a product of merit will bear advertising. No one knowingly will waste money advertising something that fails to make good.

Doubtless there have been cases where articles lacking in merit have been pushed by advertising. Unfortunately men make mistakes. But the public soon separates the wheat from the chaff of articles that are advertised. Twenty-five years ago there was a riot of breakfast foods. A dozen new brands were extensively advertised. The public approved three or four as meritorious. Within a short time the others faded out, and only those of proved merit remained. There would have been no way in the world, however, for these three or four to make a place for themselves without advertising.

Up to a generation ago there was no razor except the old-fashioned one. The safety razor was made by advertising. Those that worked well have survived, the impracticable ones have fallen by the wayside. But without advertising publicity men could not have known the comfort of the safety razor for many years.

Without advertising the modern department stores could not exist. Only by the use of newspaper publicity can the store manager achieve the volume of sales that make possible a narrow margin of profits and low prices.

Advertising is as essential to modern business as railroad transportation is. Without it there could be only small scale production and distribution which would necessarily involve high prices. The comforts that play so large a part in modern life would be developed over generations instead of over a half decade.

There has been wasteful advertising, just as there has been wasteful management in many kinds of business. But the waste is as nothing in comparison with the advantages achieved.

Advertising is one of the great and essential efficiency devices of modern life.

Fashion Whimsies

Tailored coat collars are seen on new coats, the big square rolled cape collar is now confined to wraps and sport clothes. The shoulder line is becoming more accentuated, and at present everything points toward a neat and trim neck arrangement and a long shoulder seam moulding the garment closely to the line of the shoulder.

Gray velvet trimmed in gray monkey fur is a combination found in many of the expensive afternoon gowns for fall. Fur is to be used extensively on street gowns as well as on afternoon and evening gowns.

One of the most attractive costumes seen recently predicts the advanced styles with its highly lustered black crinkled silk swathed tightly about the figure and ending in long panels at the sides which are trimmed in black monkey fur. A high standing collar of monkey fur and long tight fitting sleeves are new notes that are interesting.

Now that Irene Castle has returned from Paris wearing ears, don't let us rush our own ears upon the public until we first give them a minute once over in our mirrors. One woman in one thousand can display her ears to good advantage.

Black, crow blue and brown are the shades used for suits and coat frocks. The materials range from the fine twilled French serge and the slightly rippled Bodier cloth, to heavy cheviots which show a shot surface. These last are made up into suits and separate coats and are lined throughout with bright Scotch plaid crepe marocain.

All the new cloths and coat materials are extremely light in weight. Zenana remains one of the favorite materials for early autumn and is made into cloaks lined with squirrel and mole in exactly matching shades.

Blouses and shirts are made with extreme simplicity. The newest neck line is straight, or cut in a wide oval. The favorite Parisian model is slip-over with a wide shaped belt snugly fastened low on the hips.

Some severely tailored women affect the new polo shirt, copied exactly from the men's polo shirt, even to the monogram embroidered in white or colored silks set three inches from the straight button band on the left side. This monogram vogue extends even to outside clothes and is used effectively on coats, but so designed that it assumes the place of ornament and at first sight appears to be a Chinese or Persian placque either carried out in Persian colors or in metal threads with black and gold padding.

More Truth Than Poetry

REMEMBRANCE
By S. E. Kiser

"I never shall forget," he said,
"The glad occasion when we met;
Though your remembrance may be dead.
My recollection lingers yet."

"I've not forgotten," she replied;
"You said some things I loved to hear
When you and I had stepped aside
And no one else was very near.

"How long ago it seems to be,
And yet, indeed, the years are few;
I hope that Time has dealt with me
As kindly as it has with you.

"Strange that our pathways should, that night,
Have met and then spread far apart;
I've often fancied that you might
Have guessed the secret in my heart.

"I've not forgotten how we sped
Far from the gay and thoughtless throng;
The moon was shining overhead,
The road was good, the way was long.

"And once your hand closed over mine
When we were riding up a hill;
The long trip homeward was divine;
You see that I remember still.

"I've often thought that you forgot,
And often I have wondered why;
Fair visions that my fancy caught
Were born, however, but to die!"

"I never shall forget," said he;
"That night I learned, indeed, to care;
They took my watch and clothes from me
For payment of the taxi fare."

A Picturesque Rebel

(Niall Ronan in the Outlook)

Dublin—Maude Gonne MacBride is an Irish rebel. She is the gaunt remains of a once famous beauty. Her father was Colonel Gonne of the British service, but, although English, she has been anti-English all her life.

As far back as 1900, when Queen Victoria visited Dublin for the last time, Maude Gonne, as she then was, appeared on an Irish jaunting car dressed in black, waving a black flag, in the streets thronged with people ready to welcome her whom Maude had called "the Famine Queen." In his "Queen's After-Dinner Speech at the Vice-Regal Lodge" the late Percy French, the Irish Grossmith and comic poet alluding to this incident makes the queen say:

"An' then other wan," sez she,
"That Maude Gonne," sez she,
"Dressing in black," sez she,
"For to welcome me back," sez she
("As if I care," sez she,
"What they wear," sez she),
"Now Maude will write," sez she
"That I brought the blight," sez she.

"Or althered the saisons," sez she,
"For some privit raisons," sez she.

In the late '80s Maude's beauty took Paris by storm, and when "Major" MacBride returned there, covered with the notoriety that he had gained in leading the Irish brigade against the British in the South African War, she married him, and they came back to Ireland as soon as the British government would permit him to do so.

Their life was not happy, and later she divorced him. He was executed after the rising of 1916, and their son, Sean MacBride, was taken prisoner at the Four Courts when the garrison surrendered.

Mme. MacBride approved of the treaty, but she has apparently joined the republicans now, probably out of sympathy for her son. Of late years she has done much good work in organising free meals for the poor and in connection with the Irish White Cross.

ONE BETTER

(From Judge)

On an European battle field in the late world war a big, raw-boned Yankee sergeant was gathering in a bunch of German prisoners, among them an officer. There was a look of bewilderment on the German officer's face.

"I cannot understand it," said he. "These were the Kaiser's storm troops."

"Storm troops, hell!" retorted his captor. "We're from Kansas, where they raise cyclones."

MANNING'S CAUSTIC WIT

Cardinal Manning had a caustic wit and he loved to "take down" those who exhibited pomposity. In "Pages From the Past," John Ayscough (Rt. Rev. Mgr. Count Beckerstaffe Drew) tells how the cardinal snubbed an ostentatious prelate.

Once he brought a very magnificent bishop, who by no means despised ornament, to see St. Thomas's seminary.

"It is very plain," remarked his lordship, scanning the rather austere facade.

"You are right," rejoined the cardinal most sweetly. "Quite. There is nothing vulgar about it."

On another occasion the same prelate was a fellow guest, with the cardinal, of royalty. The bishop came in purple; the cardinal presently arrived in his ordinary black coat, breeches, gaiters, and apron; to whom the bishop rushed up, much perturbed at thus eclipsing in splendor a prince of the church.

"Never mind, my dear lord," said the cardinal. "It does not matter. I dare say no one will notice you."

"Soul—Soul!"

It will do no good to lie.
Hold your eyelids wide. Look straight.
Stare—Stare—Nor deny
The hard dim thing you hate.

This is you, alone and old.
Yes,—she has no loveliness.
Yes,—she stumbles and is cold
In that thick black dress.

Say not, "She is none of mine—
Husk of a life, unloved, unknown."
Stare—Stare—Learn each line.
Of fading for your own.

You, who sit behind the eyes,
Juggling life and judging death,
Too immortal and too wise
To fail with failing breath,—

Soul!—Soul!—Voyager
Of wild unclaimed Eternity!—
Face her! Never pity her!
You alone can set her free!

A Chinese Girl Nurse In America

(New York World, August 6)

A Chinese girl who, ten years ago, broke away from the customs and traditions of her country to come to America and study to be a nurse, has returned to the United States after five years' work in China in order to perfect herself further in her chosen vocation.

She is Miss Hsiu Lan Pai (pronounced "Pie,") from Peking, China, a young woman of birth and breeding. In 1911 she started to learn nursing in Philadelphia, and later finished her course at the Presbyterian Hospital here in New York. A year of practice as a visiting nurse of the Henry Street Settlement staff followed, after which she returned to China to join the personnel of the Rockefeller Institute there, and recently she was transferred to the new hospital at Peking. Now she has taken her year of furlough to go to Johns Hopkins, in Baltimore where she will study anaesthesia.

Miss Pai was found at the Henry Street Settlement House at No. 265 Henry Street, perched on a horsehair sofa, her tiny feet some inches from the floor. She took the caller to the little upstairs bedroom, where a bewildering array of gaily embroidered mandarin jackets rubbed elbows with starched white uniforms. As she fluttered from one pile of clothing to another she said:

"Public health work as it has been developed in America is not understood as yet in the Orient, but we owe our hospital development, the science of caring for those already sick, in great part to American aid. When the new hospital of the Rockefeller Institute was opened I was transferred to its demonstration ward, where accident and emergency cases are brought in. Because I speak both English and Chinese I interpreted for the patients, as well as being the nurse.

"When I go back I expect to find the public health work, already talked about, started in Peking, where there is great need among the masses for the education and house to house visiting which you have developed here in America. I shall hope to have a part in that, for I prefer it to institutional nursing. When one visits a family day after day one gets acquainted with every member of the family and knows their problems and troubles. It is like helping personal friends."

Miss Pai said that her Henry Street experience had included not only help to some of the older Chinese in Chinatown, but also visits to Russian, Irish, Italian and other foreign families. And when she came back after five years' absence the first to run and embrace her was an old Irishwoman whose husband she had nursed through his last illness and who had always remembered the "blessed Miss Pai, dearie."

But the Chinatown experience was one she especially remembers, for it was there that she once found a quaint little Chinese lady who, during her seventeen years in this alien country, had been outside her home only three times.

"The Chinese here are in many ways far more conservative than they are at home in China," said Miss Pai. "They keep themselves apart, whereas over there the people now take foreigners very much for granted. The Peking dialect is the foundation of all Chinese. The language school in Peking has more than 200 missionaries studying there. There are also many business men and other visitors who from Peking they go out all over the country, and if a social service department is started there, the fact that the Americans have become so much a part of Chinese life will be a great help in accustoming the people to a point of view heretofore foreign to Oriental minds."

Here Miss Pai held up a snowy dress for inspection.

"Look at that material," she said. "You couldn't get that as cheaply here as I did abroad—or anything like the quality! That's the real Chinese linen, sheer and cool and strong. It will stand endless washings. And look at those tiny stitches, all hand made and cost less than the machine-made over here. Labor is still cheap in China. I brought sheets and bedspreads and tablecloths of this linen to all my friends here.

"And here is a Chinese wedding party, broken to bits, poor dears, as I knew they would be. See the bride in the sedan and the bearers and the guests in their wedding garments! This is a typical Chinese toy, as delicate as spun glass. A dear little Chinese boy pressed it into my hand as I started out for America, and though I knew it would never make the trip safely I brought it along.

"Yes, I do want to go back to them all, the children and the older people as well; but first I must learn more over here and catch up with the progress which Miss Wald and her big nursing staff of 250 visiting nurses have been making since I first started out, bag in hand, to go into the tenement homes as a very green young nurse.

"We in China think this visiting nurse idea is one of the greatest contributions America has made to health matters. You know it started down here when Miss Lillian Wald nearly thirty years ago first came to live with the families of your lower east side. Congestion and suffering and ignorance in China are even worse, many times worse, than here in enlightened America. When I am through at Johns Hopkins Hospital I shall go back, and I hope that by then the public health work there will be under way and that I may have a part in it."

Miss Pai was an inexperienced, half freightened young girl when she first came over the ward of Dr. Yamei Kin, a distinguished Chinese doctor here, and Miss Wald; now she is a trained, self-reliant woman, expert in her chosen field.

How To Measure Centrifugal Force

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

A man in New Hampshire is unable to see how an increase of seventeen times in the velocity of the earth's rotation could cause bodies on the equator to lose all weight, through the centrifugal force becoming equal to the force of gravity. As he has written twice about it and since others may find the same difficulty, I will explain the calculation as clearly as I can.

The general value of such an explanation lies in showing how a simple mathematical formula may be handled by anybody. Most people seem to think that only a mathematician can deal with such things, apparently never imagining that a formula means exactly what it says, and is almost the simplest tool in the world.

If you only will have faith and do just what it tells you to do, the formula will work as surely and easily as a car will run when you put on the gas, and it is no more necessary to be a mathematician to manage such a formula than it is necessary to be a machinist to drive a car. It is the making of the formula, as it is the making of the car, that demands special knowledge and skill.

Now for the centrifugal force, which gave the earth its generous, belt-girth, and which would fling things from the equator like drops of water from a whirling grindstone, if the earth should start to turning more than seventeen times faster. It is precisely the same force that makes looping-the-loop possible in amusement parks. In every case the problem is to destroy, or eliminate, the force of gravity, by means of a counterbalancing force.

Let us borrow a little of the simplified language of the mathematicians. We will let C stand for centrifugal force, V for velocity, R for the radius of the earth—i.e., the distance from its surface to its center, or, in the case of centrifugal force, the distance from any point on the surface perpendicularly down to the axis of the earth under that point. The force of gravity we will represent by G, meaning not any weight, but the acceleration of motion toward the earth's center that gravity produces in one second of time. This is always, in round numbers, 32 feet. Then we must have the almost matchlessly useful quantity called Pi, and usually represented by the Greek letter of that name. The numerical value of Pi is about 3.14.

Now, the principles of physics give us this formula: C equals V (V squared), divided by R. But to apply it for our calculation we take it in a slightly altered shape, thus: C equals 4 Pi-square R divided by T2, in which T represents the time of one rotation of the earth expressed in seconds. For those who are curious enough to ask why this last equation equals the first, and why we use it instead of the first, I will just explain that V is equal to 2 Pi R (which is the mathematical expression for the circumference of a circle), divided by T, the time of rotation; and we want the formula in this shape because our object is to get an expression for the centrifugal force in terms of acceleration per second, which will enable us to compare it with gravity.

So, then, we first find the value of R, the earth's radius at the equator, which is 20,926,202 feet (I take Professor Young's value), and the value of T, which is 86,167 seconds, and then squaring, multiplying and dividing just as the formula tells us to do, we get as the final result the decimal 0.1112, which if you examine the terms of the formula, you will find to mean 0.1112 of a foot per second. In other words the acceleration produced by centrifugal force at the earth's equator, while the earth is rotating at its present speed equals 0.1112 foot. Now, taking gravity in round numbers as 32 feet per second, we see that the centrifugal force is about one 289th part of gravity.

But, the first formula tells us that the centrifugal force varies with the square of the velocity, and 289 is the square of 17, from which we see that if the velocity of the earth's rotation should become 17 times greater, or one turn in 1 hour 24.7 minutes, the centrifugal force at the equator would just equal gravity, so that bodies there would lose all their weight. Here is the equation: 1-289th multiplied by 289 (17 squared) equals 1.

We are now dealing with the centrifugal force required to make a car on a vertical circular railroad loop the loop safely, we consider the velocity instead of the acceleration, and we have the formula V (the speed of the car) equals G multiplied by r, the letter r in this case standing for the radius of the circular rail, while G, as before, represents gravity. Thus, suppose the radius were 25 feet, then G multiplied by r would be about 706, the square root of which is nearly 28.4, showing the velocity ought to be that number of feet per second theoretically, and considerably more in practice, in order that the car should not fall.

But glasses are not at all a sign of old age.
Children's eyes are quite as likely to be defective. Have your eyes examined by a skilled optometrist and be relieved from ruinous eye-strain.

Chinese Pilot And Loadah Testify In Collision Suit

The suit for damages filed by the San Peh Steam Navigation Company against the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company, growing out of collision between the steamers Teh Hsing and the Hanwo on the Yangtsze, was continued in the British Supreme Court yesterday before Judge Peter Grain. The San Peh Company, owners of the Teh Hsing, alleges that negligence on the part of the commander of the Hanwo caused the crash.

Mr. R. F. C. Master represented the plaintiffs and Mr. Duncan McNeill the defendants.

The cross-examination of the Chinese pilot of the Hanwo was taken up by Mr. Master. In reply to questions, the witness said that he steered a course northeast by north in the middle of the river. When the ship was in that position the Tehhsing was 700 feet from the Hanwo and the latter was then two and a half cables from the north bend of the bank. The course northeast by north enabled him to steer straight on, the Tehhsing being on his port side. The Hanwo was not too close to the north side of the channel. There was some 600 to 700 feet distance between the Tehhsing and the Hanwo when the Tehhsing passed her. The first tier of lighters passed the Hanwo parallel. The first lot of three lighters followed the Hanwo in the same direction. The first indication that something was wrong was when the bell rang. He heard the bell ring when the Tehhsing was passed by the Hanwo.

How soon after you passed the Tehhsing did you turn round and see the Tehhsing come out of port and strike the lighter?—Very soon after.

Where were you standing on the Hanwo when you saw this occurrence?—I was standing in the middle of the bridge. I went to the port side and saw.

Judge: Which happened first, the ringing of the bell or the striking of the lighter?—The bell rang first.

Mr. Master: Did you see the Tehhsing before she struck?—I did not see her first. I only looked when the bell rang. But for the bell I would not have looked.

How did you communicate with these lighters in tow?—When I am on the run I do not speak to them. When the lights were in order I had nothing to communicate to the lighters. I could have spoken to them if I wanted through the megaphone. Each lighter had a rudder and a man at the wheel. Three lighters were lashed together.

How were the three lighters attached to the Hanwo?—There was a hook behind the funnel of the Hanwo and they were fixed amidship.

I suggest to you that when you were opposite the Tehhsing at the stern you ported your helm hard astern?—No, I did not.

Can you explain how it could happen that the Tehhsing, which was 600 feet away when you first saw it, covered that distance and struck the lighter?—My idea was that she was very far away. I saw the red lights and passed her. I went my course and she went hers.

That is not an answer to my question. Have you an explanation to give?—I do not know. I was proceeding alright and she was near the bank. If there was anything wrong she should have whistled to me. My tug could go two to three knots.

In your direct examination you said they were going eight knots?—Eight knots with the current.

You state your course was not altered northeast by a south?—It was not altered.

Could you have altered it by half point, northeast half north?—Mine was northeast by north.

Judge: Did you feel any shock on the tow at the time of the collision?—I heard a noise. There was no sharp vibration.

The loadah of the Hanwo said he was previously pilot for two years on the Shunwo, a tow boat. He first noticed the Tehhsing's white lights about three miles away. The Hanwo was then below the village. Witness was then on the bridge and the quartermaster at the wheel at the time. When he first saw the Tehhsing's lights the Hanwo was two or three miles from the Tehhsing. He could see the bank, but from the port side the Tehhsing was far away.

Continuing, witness said: After I saw the white lights of the Tehhsing, I told the pilot about it and he saw the lights too. Then the white lights approached without any whistle being given. Even when she passed the Hanwo everything was alright. Up to the time of the collision I saw the green lights for a few minutes. After that I saw the red lights. When I first saw the red light the Tehhsing was already on the side of our boat about two miles off. When she came to pass the Hanwo it was alright. Previous to the collision my boat was in the middle of the river. The pilot after seeing the white lights called half-point to the south and after this no change was made. the Hanwo keeping to the middle of the river. The lighters that we towed carried lights on the night in question. I personally attend to these lights, but from the bridge of the Hanwo I could not see the stern lights.

How long before the collision did you last see the lights of the lighters?—Every ten or fifteen minutes I saw the lights. They were burning brightly.

It has been said that lighter No. 14 at the time of the collision carried no lights?—That is not correct.

Did you see the lights of lighter No. 14 after the collision?—The stern light of lighter No. 14 was in the water, and it was burning. I gave an order to all the laodahs to take out the lights.

Do you know what time the collision took place?—At 11:45 p.m. I know it as I looked at my watch at the time.

Cross-examined by Mr. Master: Did you see the Tehhsing strike lighter No. 14?—I do not know what vessel it was.

Did you see any other vessel?—It was dark and I did not know what vessel it was.

Did you see with your eyes the Tehhsing or any other vessel strike the lighter?—I did. I was on the bridge and could see both sides. She first came over and the bell was sounded by the loadah. The collision took place just then.

How far was the Hanwo past the Tehhsing when you heard the bell ring?—The Hanwo and the three lighters passed clear before I heard the bell.

After you passed the Tehhsing did you see her again in the act of collision?—Yes.

I put it to you that the Hanwo was not in the middle of the river?—I say conscientiously that she was.

After the collision did you anchor?—Yes, on the sandbank of the river. After the blow we were making for the north bank of the river but as the water was very deep we went to the south bank to anchor. We went to inquire the cause of the collision from the Tehhsing but when I turned around I saw the Tehhsing coming to us.
